HOW POLICE INVESTIGATE HOMICIDE

August 20, 2-3 p.m.

The Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department Homicide Section is committed to the unrelenting pursuit of those involved in all homicides, officer-involved shootings, fire deaths and suspicious deaths. It is their hope, through professionalism, that the Citizens of Clark County feel comfortable to contact them with any information related to any homicide that has occurred countywide. LVMPD Homicide works in conjunction with the Forensic Division, which evaluates and examines 10-15 cases per day.

Speakers

Dan McGrath

Section Lieutenant for Homicide at LVMPD

EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS

September 17, 2-3 p.m.

The five top hazards for Clark County include earthquakes, extreme weather, wildfire, pandemic, and hazardous materials. Southern Nevada is particularly vulnerable to disaster because no food is grown in the region and the area's main fuel line originates in California. This program, created by the American Red Cross, educates individuals on preparedness in emergency and disaster situations. As part of the presentation, attendees will learn the basic tenants of emergency preparedness planning, including water, food, and medical plans, family and neighborhood planning, and how to put these plans into action.
