Purpose of the Advisory Council

The Advisory Council of The Mob Museum enables the organization to better fulfill its mission through the following key ways:

- Building credibility for the Museum through the stature and reputation of its Members
- Leveraging specialized expertise and resources to enhance the work of the organization
- Providing a broader pool of individuals for media commentary and other external representation of the Museum
- Establishing strategic alliances with government agencies and other private organizations

Background of Advisory Council Members

Members of the Advisory Council typically fall into two categories: local or national. Local Members support the efforts of the Museum via connections within the immediate business community or as a result of their relationship to Las Vegas-specific Museum content. Those with a national affiliation have broader museum-related backgrounds and/or well established associations with organized crime and law enforcement, either through direct experience or as researchers, journalists, etc.

Contributions and Recognition of Members

Members of the Advisory Council are:

- Elected by the Board of Directors for five-year term, with no term limits
- Acknowledged on the Museum website and in collateral material, as appropriate
- Advocates and ambassadors of the Museum in the community
- Expected to be available to Board and executive staff for occasional guidance or assistance
- Requested to participate in person at an annual gathering of the entire Council

Members of the Advisory Council are individuals professionally associated with The Mob Museum and are expected to comport themselves with high standards of personal and professional integrity. They are not fiduciaries or policy-makers of the organization. This role does not include any legal or formal responsibilities associated with governance. The Advisory Council is limited to making recommendations and providing mutually agreed upon assistance with Museum initiatives, coordinated through the office of the Executive Director & CEO. As important and valued volunteers of the organization, members of the Advisory Council will receive invitations to special Museum events and programs at various times of the year.
